

Moving Toward a New Generation of Youth Employment Programs

David Robalino
Manager and Lead Economist
Jobs Group, World Bank

Widening gap – youth labor force & job creation

Are youth employment programs successful?

- ▶ Only 30% of youth employment programs evaluated show a positive impact on labor market outcomes
- ▶ Impact is small

Youth Employment Programs

Source: Kluge, Jochen and Puerto, Susana and Robalino, David A. and Romero, Jose Manuel and Rother, Friederike and Stöterau, Jonathan and Weidenkaff, Felix and Witte, Marc, Do Youth Employment Programs Improve Labor Market Outcomes? A Systematic Review. IZA Discussion Paper No. 10263. Available at SSRN: <https://ssrn.com/abstract=2849748>

Promoting investment and economic growth isn't enough because of social externalities

CONFLICT

POVERTY

GENDER

JOBS

YOUTH

~~MARKETS~~

Subsidize private investments conditional on job creation

